

Orange County Transportation Authority

Legislation Text

File #: 21-3316, Version: 1

State Plans and Policies Related to Climate Change

The transportation sector is a large contributor to California's greenhouse gas emissions. The State of California has approved multiple policies over the years to reduce emissions from transportation sources. New state policies will further these efforts and will likely to shift state transportation planning and funding priorities. An update on these policies is provided for information purposes.